GLOOM DISAPPEARS BUT COMES AGAIN

Zilky Signs Affidavit, But Authorities Will Continue Probe.

The heavy gloom which settled over the high school basketball camp Monday afternoon when an announcement was made to the effect that Edward Zilky, the star guard of the Tan and Blue quintet, would not be allowed to play in the sectional tournament which is to be held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday and Saturday, was removed and replaced within a few hours yesterday afternoon.

The reason advanced for the keeping of Zilky out of the games was that the local authorities had received a report to the effect that Zilky had played independent basketball while a member of the local team which is an infringement of the Indiana High School Athletic association and would make the local quintet liable to suspension from the association were Zilky to be allowed to play.

Zilky was asked to disprove the report which he did by swearing out an affidavit to the effect that he has never played professional basketball and that he has not played independent basketball since February 1, 1917, at which time he became a member of the local team. The news that Zilky had signed the affidavit, which was given out about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was joyfully received by the student body and South Bend's chances in the coming tournament were greatly increased; but the gloom was replaced or at least partially so, early last evening when Prin. J. S. McCowan announced that the case was still doubtful for at least one of the schools that are to compete in the tourney had requested a further investigation which was granted by the local authorities.

As the tournament is booked to open at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon the investigation will be as speedy as possible so that Coach E. E. Burnham and the local fans may know whether or not Zilky will be in the local line-up. Prin. McCowan stated that definite action would undoubtedly be taken some time today but would not mention the names of the schools that requested the furthering of the investigation. Thinking that the case was settled, Coach Burnham used Zilky in yesterday's practice but if Zilky is again withdrawn Coach Burnham will have to send a different combination into the opening game of the tourney.

CLUBS TO COMPETE FOR $500 REWARD

Prize Will be Given to Best Military Trained Team in Big Leagues.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Baseball clubs of the American league, now receiving military instruction in their training camps, are to compete for drilling honors. Capt. Franklin P. Kennedy, U. S. A., in command of recruiting in the central department of the army, announced Tuesday night.

Capt. Kennedy said that Pres't B. B. Johnson of the American league, originator of the military training plan for ball players, has offered a $500 prize to the best drilled team in the league and a prize of $100 in gold to the drill sergeant who instructs the winning players.

The competition will be decided in July. A board of army officers will be selected to review the players and make the award. The $500 will be distributed as the players decide, but it is probable that the fund will be used to purchase a pennant emblematic of the honor.

The military training plans for ball players has spread to other leagues. The Milwaukee and Indianapolis clubs are among the American association teams that have taken up the movement. Drill sergeants will be taken to the spring training camps to instruct the players.

NOTRE DAME MEN START OUTDOORS

Football and Baseball Teams Go Outside for First Practice of Season.

Jesse Harper and Knute Rockne, directors of Notre Dame athletics, felt the call of spring yesterday and the result was that baseball and football men were ordered out onto the campuses near the gymnasium and sent through "peppery" workouts on the near-green sward. The gymnasium was deserted, save for a few interhall athletes working out in preparation for the coming meets, and many fans watched the out-of-door activities.

Nearly 40 candidates reported for the first spring football practice. The number included practically all of the members of last fall's freshman squad, several veterans and a few new men. Assisted by Capt. Phelan of the 1917 team, Bachman and Miller, Coach Rockne first put the men through the early rudiments of blocking and line play, then formed two eleven and sent the men through signal drill. Rockne took charge of one team, while Capt. Phelan bossed the other. The work was unusually good for so early in the spring practice season.

Local Boy Out.

Among the new men to report yesterday was Allen, a South Bend boy and former Wabash football, baseball and basketball star. Allen entered Notre Dame last September after two years on Wabash varsity teams. He was ineligible to compete in varsity athletics this year, but he will be able to play next season. Allen was used as quarterback on one of the team during the signal drill.

The baseball men apparently enjoyed the outdoor work yesterday. The scene resembled a major league training camp. The majority of the men wore sweaters to prevent them from taking cold, but all had plenty of early season "pep."

The greater part of the afternoon was given over to batting practice; and this, by the way, is the first season in several years when batting practice has been begun out of doors. The pitchers simply lobbed the ball across and the batter took more pains with "getting their eyes" than with slugging the bat.

The outfielders were given a busy afternoon chasing flies and ground balls.

Coach Harper is hoping that the present good weather may continue in order that the men will get plenty of work before the schedule opens.

The squad had a later start this year than last, baseball practices indoors starting only a week ago.

Take Rest.

The relay men are being given a temporary rest, as they will not be entered in any meet next Saturday night and will not appear in any more indoor competition this season.

Some of the track men donned heavy "flannels" yesterday, however, and took long cross-country jogs.

The first preliminary interhall meet will be run off in the gymnasium next Sunday afternoon. Brownson, Walsh and St. Joe competing. The next preliminary will be held a week from Thursday, Corby, Sorin and the day students battling for honors.

The winners of the first four places in each of the events in the preliminary meets will be eligible for the final meet, which will be held two weeks from Sunday.
